

General Information

When presenting, please mute all microphones and deactivate your camera. For discussion, individuals can reactivate their microphones and optionally their camera.

The meeting will be recorded.

Please write questions in the chat. We will collect them and read the questions out loud in the Q&A session at the end of the web-seminar.

Technical problems? Please write this in the chat as well. The OE-A team will try to help you.

Compliance Rules also apply in Online Meetings

Compliance rules also apply in the Online Meeting Violations of antitrust law can lead to substantial sanctions against participating companies, employees and associations. In your personal interest and to protect your company and the work of the associations, compliance with antitrust law is therefore of utmost importance. The individual exchange of information between companies in competition is subject to particularly strict antitrust law requirements. According to the VDMA Compliance Program, individual exchange of information with regard to the data listed here is therefore not permitted for individual products or markets. In this respect, the information must relate to the entire company or a broad product range. An exchange of competition-relevant company-specific data beyond this is not possible.
