

Titel

A new era of systemic competition:
Implications for Europe and its companies

Noah Barkin

Senior Advisor, Rhodium Group & Visiting Senior Fellow,
German Marshall Fund of the United States

Rhodium

Germany

Biography

Noah Barkin is a Senior Advisor with Rhodium Group's China practice, where he focuses on Europe-China relations and transatlantic China policy. He is also a Visiting Senior Fellow in the Indo-Pacific Program at the German Marshall Fund of the United States and creator of the popular “Watching China in Europe” newsletter. Previously he worked as a bureau chief, regional editor and Europe correspondent for Reuters, based in Berlin, Paris, London and New York. He has also written for publications including The Atlantic, Foreign Policy, The New York Times and Politico.

Company Profile

Rhodium Group is an independent research and advisory firm focused on China and climate issues, with offices in the US, Europe, and Asia. The company combines data analytics and policy insight to help decision-makers in the public, corporate and financial sectors understand economic, geopolitical, and industry-specific dynamics related to China